

January Report for The Edge

This month Librarian Carlson held several craft programs including crocheting, origami, and held a program with the High School's Global Ambassadors where they made paper beads as part of a fundraiser. Librarian Carlson also held meetings for the Teen Advisory Group and Teen Book Review Club. He hosted a nutrition program with In Jung Casseday, Registered Dietician from Shoprite. He also taught an adult computer class, Intro to Microsoft Word Part 1.

Librarian Carlson attended the city's blood drive and the White Plains Cares Coalition meeting. He was invited to attend Community Day at Good Counsel Academy Elementary School with Librarian Rasmussen where they received a gift from the school thanking us for the work we do in the library. He also went to ALA's Mid-Winter Meeting in Philadelphia where he learned about trends in Young Adult Services, networked and made contacts for future programs in The Edge.

Digital Media Specialist Olney taught several media workshops including 3D Design with SketchUp, 3D Animation with Alice, Video Editing Workshop, Computer Hacking 101, Create Digital Comics, 3D Design with Blender Photo Editing Workshop, held a month long workshop using Kerbal Space, and held his Minecraft Club. Digital Media Specialist Olney also held four Drop-in Computer Help sessions for adults.
