Outreach, Projects & Visits

- ◆ Post Road School had to cancel the visits by the first graders because of bad weather. We have rescheduled for December.
- ◆ The Head Start classes had better weather, and buses to bring them to the Trove for special visits sponsored by the Junior League.
- ◆ Eastview School held a parent meeting here for one of the teams. We presented an information session on our computer resources and the teachers gave a powerpoint on school resources and ways to help students with testing.
- ◆ A special ed class from White Plains High School also stopped by for some books.

Programs

- ◆ GLSEN, the Gay, Lesbian, Straight Education Network, gave a storytime for all kinds of families with a fun craft. The turnout was small, but all the volunteers are willing to come again in the spring.
- ◆ This month we added Games in the Castle on Friday and Saturday afternoons for older kids.
- ◆ Deb Gaffey had 6 dog visits and a sellout registration for Act It Out, her reader's theater program.
- ◆ Terry Rabideau gave a Sunday family storytime and led older kids in a Sculptress computer workshop.
- ◆ Tata Cañuelas presented Cuentos as a Sunday family program and a Toddler Fun session.
- ◆ Raquel Cavalcanti had a nice turnout for a Mother Goose Saturday program which had missed getting on the print calendar. A dozen families showed up just from the online listing! She always gets a big crowd for the Monday sessions.
- ◆ Bonnie Grant gave her annual creative leaf craft program, and arranged for 2 feature film showings.
- ◆ Bonnie and Deb held a pizza party reunion of our Battle of the Books team.

Staff

- ◆ Terry attended the NYLA conference in Saratoga Springs for the last year of her board membership, and she also presented at the conference.
- ◆ Tata told stories at the Westchester County Tellebration.
- ◆ We all took turns attending the WLS performer showcase held in our auditorium, and we won two free shows!
