Did you miss the Fair Street USA block party last week? If you wanted to view the miniature houses, you can still find them on display at the Library through July 30th. The houses are located in the lobby, Hub, the Trove, and our Museum Gallery. Grab a pamphlet to learn more about each house.

Fair Street USA is a Fair Housing Education Public Art Exhibition sponsored by the City of White Plains Planning Department and funded by a HUD grant. Local community groups worked with artists to design and create interactive models that “speak” to participants.

FIESTA! Concert with Flor Bromley
Thursday, July 7th
2:00–3:00 p.m.
Library Plaza
FIESTA! is a multicultural musical celebration! Kids and families will join in the fun as they learn about different musical genres through dance, storytelling and songs, traveling with Flor Bromley to the countries where the rhythms were born. This is not your typical children’s concert, it’s a whole family fiesta! Please bring a blanket to sit on if you would like. Rain Location: Library Auditorium. Space will be limited. First-come, first-served, pick up a ticket at the Trove desk.

Eight Unexpected Causes of High Drug Prices
Tuesday, July 12th
7:00–8:00 p.m.
Prescription drugs are among the most common health care interventions and have turned some once-fatal diseases into manageable conditions - but they have also been a growing source of controversy. Patients in the US struggle with increasing costs and express concerns about why many conditions, such as Alzheimer’s disease, remain without adequate therapeutic options. This presentation will cover eight unexpected causes of high drug prices. Click here to register.

Summer Reading at the Library started June 27th and will run through Friday, August 19th. Logging reading over the summer will again be online this year via the READsquared platform through either the READsquared website or the READsquared app. PreK will be using the 1000 Books Before Kindergarten program to track summer reading. Click here for info to get started.

Find information on the great lineup of programs and events for kids, teens and families in July and August here.
